

THE SIXTH INTELLIGENCE

Each person has been blessed with five senses (some stronger than others) and specific gifts and talents that are embodied in them since birth. Yet, what if people were to discover that combining these gifts and talents with faith through Jesus could open up a new field of possibilities and opportunities of conversion? The new field would be that of The Sixth Intelligence, a concept exemplified in David Melbourne's newest, nonfiction book of the same title. The belief is that people have problem-solving abilities that center on their intellect and their perceptions from their environments, but David goes further to say the power of faith in God can lead to greater spiritual discernment of right and wrong. It becomes faith beyond intelligence, as people learn their pre-ordained destinies and become characters of God by going to Him in prayer. With God, all things are possible, even those outside the senses.
