

Job Hunting in Education: An Insiders Guide to Success

Whoever said that getting a job is a job must have been in the field of education. This detailed account of how the job-hunt process works describes strategies that have failed candidates and also highlights activities that have proven to be successful for candidates who have taken the advice of experienced recruiters. It is a hands-on guide filled with real-life stories and suggestions that can help the job seeker get ahead of the competition and compete successfully in the market place. Pandiscio has personally interviewed and hired hundreds of employees for public schools and non-profit organizations. He has reviewed thousands of applications received from aspiring administrators, from experienced administrators seeking new positions and from teacher candidates. Throughout the years, he has documented the best and worst of candidates job search efforts. Job Hunting in Education is a story of those successes and failures. It is a roadmap for a successful job hunt.
