

The Formula:: Chemistry of Hope for Black America

Oak Summers is the editor of Ecomedy Report Magazine; an economics-based periodical that highlights investment opportunities, current economic trends, and how politics affect the bottom-line of the average American. Through extensive case study & research, he has diagnosed the Elements that must be combined to achieve hope & prosperity for the Afro-American culture. More importantly, The Formula offers real & practical solutions. The Formula mixes the Elements of Food, Shelter, Economics, Politics, Social-Conditioning Marketing, Cultural Security, and the critical element of Manufacturing into an easy-to-read, simple to follow, interactive manuscript that not only explains the science of achieving hope, but also offers the tools, resources, and support to help you create the hope & prosperity that your family deserves.
