

50 Things to Know About Business Networking: How to Build a Professional Network

Do you have a compelling elevator pitch? Can you turn your contacts into loyal fans and pave your way to success? Do you have at least five hot conversational starters? Can you handle people from all walks of life in a skillful manner? If you answered no to any of these questions then this book is for you. 50 Things to Know to Know About Business networking: How to Build a Professional Network by Jeanette Gardner will instantly give you some great tips on how to become a skilled business networker. Business networking is a lifestyle. It comes natural for some people and its something they do every day. As the saying goes, there are those who make it happen those who watch it happen those who wonder what happened

Skilled networkers are people who are actively changing the conditions around them for the better and they constantly make things happen around them. Networking can be a great career booster, but a network of good contacts will also make you more successful in business when pitching for a contract or a business deal, as most people will rather do business with someone they know. Learn how to brand yourself as a networker, master the best netiquette when you attend conferences, events or meeting, find out how to handle yourself and others and become a networking virtuoso. In this book you will learn how to build strong business contacts and be a savvy networker and a person who everyone wants to know and talk to. So grab YOUR copy today. Youll be glad you did.
