

Job Hunting Is A Contact Sport

The solution to your job hunting problems is not to send 200 more letters. In fact, dont send any. Dont hunt on-line. Dont hand out your resume. Dont allow yourself to be relegated to HR.I wrote this book because of the lousy advice I heard given to my kids by job counselors. The worse advise I hear seems to be from career advisors. Its like they have a book they all read that was written in the 1980s - and they parrot the information to the masses with a mention or two about the Inter-Web. (I actually heard a career counselor call it that.)Frankly, their advice wasnt all that good even in the 1980s.I got my first full time job in 1981. Thats where I started to see that the traditional way of job hunting didnt work. Since then I have had four jobs plus I started my own consulting firm. I never used a resume. I never got a job from a want-ad. I never interviewed with a person from Human Resources. I got every job I ever wanted.My book will show you how to find your dream job.Job Hunting Is A Contact Sport gives a short list of the things you need to do to get a job in the current economy. While the list is short, the results are dynamic.You will get advice in this book that you are not hearing from others. Unique, powerful, and straightforward.
