

One Love, One Heart Quilt Pattern

One Love, One Heart was created for a friend, initially as an exercise in applique. It ended being an expression of love. I asked my friend what colors she likes, and who her favorite musician. I also had her enlist her children's help by having them trace their hand prints for me. Knowing that she enjoys Bob Marley's music and that you can make hearts with your hands, the song One Love popped into my head. Adding the family's last name completed the design nicely. The whole project was quick and simple to make and ended up being a real piece of love. My friend loved the result and I loved seeing the look on her face when I gave her the finished project. There is no limit to the possibilities for this quilt. Know someone getting married? You could use actual hearts instead of hand prints and use the wedding date and the couple's names. Have a student graduating this year? You could do graduation caps and the graduation date in the school colors. Anniversaries, Happy Thanksgiving, Merry Christmas, Happy New Year, Happy Birthday You get the idea. I chose to quilt this project using free motion loop d-loops on my machine. The whole project, including design time, took only 20 hours to complete. Using the pre-cut Jelly Roll saved probably an hour of cutting time. I'm a big fan of using pre-cuts when I can. This makes this a great project for gift giving. I will also say that I was a beginner quilter when I made this quilt. It was my first applique project and my first free motion quilting attempt. So don't be afraid to tackle this project even if you are a beginner.
