

Biosphere Reserves -- Myth or Reality?: Proceedings Of The Workshop On Biosphere Reserves: World Conservation Congress Montreal 1996

Assesses the role of the MAB Programme in promoting biodiversity conservation and sustainable development, based on the outcome of a workshop held at the 1st World Conservation Congress, 1996. Included are several key papers which demonstrate experiences from around the world. The workshop illustrates that although there is no single formula by which the biosphere reserves concept can be successfully translated from theory into practice, it is an increasingly important concept.
